

FCC Officials:XM- RADIO has delivered the best programming that I've ever known. Its great variety of music and listening channels with NO ANNOYING COMMERCIALS and the "straight to the point" weather and traffic reports are more than excellent.

Radio stations all across the nation should follow this type of quality radio where the consumers, get what they really want and not what radio stations impose to listeners.

XM RADIO complies with two major principles of radio: to inform and to entertain in an outstanding manner. FCC should examine more closely ALL radio stations in the US that do not fully comply with this principles.

Recent events like Howard Stern's banishment from several radio stations due to his profanity and disrespects to the public (and others that send "garbage" to the air, been undetected) are examples of poor radio transmission quality.

That is why, as a subscriber to XM RADIO, pay for what I believe is quality. I respectfully request to the FCC to reject NAB's petition 04-160.

Sincerely,

Abdel E. Hassan
